Support Your Community With A Local Holiday Tradition: Bachman's Poinsettias

We're proud to offer you locally grown poinsettias from one of the top growers of poinsettias in the country. The Bachman family has been growing and selling these beautiful plants for the holidays since the 1940s. All of Bachman's-grown poinsettias are distributed and sold within 100 miles of the Twin Cities, which is important to us as a local organization.
